I was never a child who told his family he loved them, even tho my parents often said it to me, I felt uncomfortable saying it back from a very young age

I was afraid they'd understand me too deeply or that if the love ever changed, I'd feel guilty for having told them a lie when I was 13 or 14, my friends and I stayed up all night playing the video game FEAR. I don't really remember anything about it other than that it's a spooky game about shooting things the next morning, my grandma called to ask if I could come and mow her lawn. when the conversation ended, I told her "I love you" and immediately panicked that was the first and last conscious time I told anyone in my family that I love them

I really worry about this

Bratz Big Baby

(Bratz)

"seven days" was one of the first songs I made for big baby cam, back when it was just gonna be a one-off electronic + guitar performance in 2024. I used a splice vocal as a placeholder, but after like a year and a half of goofing w/ it, I can't imagine the song without it

Brand-new baby

A new baby give

Our New

I don't really want to become an artist who releases tracks built around splice samples, which is why this (and "zzzzz") stayed in The Vault for so long

it's a fun song tho!!!
